About the Workshop Leader...

This unique workshop will be led by Provie Musso of Daphne, Alabama. As an artist working from her home studio, many of her works consist of whimsical assemblages and collages using found objects, paint and paper. Provie loves to make people "smile" through art.

She has taught art to adults and children for 25 years. Provie received her formal art training and degrees through Auburn University, the Savannah College of Art and Design, Maine Photography School and Art Therapy Institute of Atlanta. With her incredible enthusiasm, Provie will guide and encourage you to release a creative expression of YOUR own individual experience with cancer. The creative process can improve and enhance your physical, mental and emotional well being.

You can speak with Provie if you have questions prior to the workshop (251.621.0207 or provie@bellsouth.net). Susan Bruchis, Executive Director of the Cancer Wellness Foundation, (273.2279 or sbruchis@montgomerycancer.com) can also answer questions.
